Will Ask His Bill Be Debated When Senate Meets

Washington—It was done very quietly, but the long-raging under-cover dissension between the TVA Chairman Arthur E. Morgan and has two fellow commissioners has been squelched by President Roosevelt. At his direct instigation, an administrative shakeup has taken place that has stripped Morgan of most of his power and in effect relegated him to the role of a minority member of the board.

Morgan and his colleagues have been scrapping bitterly for several years over personal and policy differences. He favors a conciliatory attitude toward private power interests. The other two commissioners advocate vigorous competition. Last year, when the term of Commissioner David Lilienthal expired, Morgan threatened to resign if he was reappointed. The President gave Lilienthal a new six-year term, but Morgan did not quit.

Lilienthal's reappointment intensified the feud and for months the President tried to find a way to end it. A plan was finally evolved and at the prompting of the President put into effect.

Under it Morgan continues to hold the title of Chairman, but relinquishes his executive duties as Chief Engineer. The other two members also give up their individual executive spheres. This three-cornered administrative control is replaced with a one-man rule in the person of Executive Officer J. B. Blandford, former Safety Director of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The board is now solely a policy-making body. It makes decisions and Blandford executes them, thus removing a chief source of friction.

In practice the arrangement means that Morgan is merely one member of a three-man directorate. As Commissioners Lilienthal and Blandford, Morgan see eye to eye on most issues, this puts Chairman Morgan in the position of the minority member.

That Morgan is aware he has shelved was indicated by his remark to a friend following the board meeting at which the reorganization was approved.

"Well," he observed glumly, "it's all over as far as I am concerned."

White House insiders predict that Morgan shortly will be offered a new post by the President.

His TVA term still has three years to run. It is an open secret that the President and Senator George Norris, rather of the TVA, would like to eliminate him from the agency. Morgan may be asked to take charge of a large reclamation project on the Red River in Texas.

Norris' resentment at Morgan's constant wrangling with colleagues was expressed in his recently introduced bill to create seven new regional TVAs. The following paragraph was aimed directly at the TVA Chairman:

"All matters of policy shall be considered and determined by the directors acting as a board; and in carrying out the provisions of this act, it shall be the duty of each director to act consistently with such policies as they may from time to time determine."

The specific event that prompted Norris to include this language was Morgan's persistent objection to the TVA signing a power contract with Chattanooga, Tenn., because the city was in territory served by the Commonwealth and Southern Company. He was finally over-ruled by Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan after months of bitter wrangling.

Capital to Capital
Airmail history will soon be made by the U. S. and Canada with the opening of a route linking Washington and Ottawa, the capitals of the two countries.

An agreement on the new line has been reached after two years of negotiating. The U. S. route will be via Harrisburg, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y.; the Canadian via Toronto, Montreal and Quebec.

In addition to joining the two capitals, the new line will also serve as a feeder to the forthcoming trans-Atlantic airmail and passenger service.

No Word
The President has said nothing to Senator Joe Robinson about appointing him to the vacancy on the Supreme Court.

They have conferred frequently since Justice Van Devanter retired and have discussed many matters, including the judicial re-organization bill, but the President has never either directly or by inference, given Joe any inkling of whether he is considering him for the Supreme Court post.

Other Senate leaders, among them Pat Harrison, Alben Barkley and Jimmy Byrnes, have talked to Roosevelt about the subject and warmly urged Joe's selection. They're confident he will get the prize and have told him so. But Joe

REEL OF FILM FAILS TO SHOW MOB MISSILES

Police Are Believed Provoked By Crowd In That Interval

Washington, July 2.—(AP)—The Senate civil liberties committee viewed today the first motion picture evidence ever introduced into a congressional investigation—a newsreel of the Memorial day battle between steel strikers and Chicago police, in which 10 persons were killed and many wounded.

The film showed approximately 120 uniformed patrolmen shooting and clubbing a crowd of shirt-sleeved paraders, among them a number of women.

The picture showed no provocation and little resistance by the demonstrators. Cameraman Orlando Lippert told the committee, however, that there was a break of "not more than seven seconds" in his film.

During this interval, he said, some missiles flew towards the police from the rear ranks of the crowd, and "20 or so" demonstrators were pushed into the police line by persons hurrying up from behind.

"This apparently was the fire that ignited the situation," Lippert explained.

Only twice did the film show resistance by the demonstrators. Once a running man paused to hurl a rock at his pursuers, and a moment later a denim-clad marcher struck at police with a stick.

Close-ups showed police hustling the wounded—many of them unconscious and streaming blood—in to patrol wagons. The stretchers with which the wagons were said to be equipped, were not used.

MASSILLON PLANT OPEN
By The Associated Press
Massillon, O., July 2.—Republic Steel Corp. defied a C. I. O. picket siege and reopened another strike-locked plant today. There was no violence.

At Youngstown, Frank Purnell, president of Sheet and Tube, and W. G. Gillies, vice-president in charge of operations, who returned from the Chicago section, both indicated they would not reopen the Indiana harbor plant until "adequate protection" for workers is provided.

Gates of the concern's central steel division swung open, under protection of steel-helmeted National Guardsmen, for the first time since the strike started May 27.

The reopening left Cleveland the only city where Republic's sprawling mills are closed completely. Reopening of the four

Worked Too Well
Shelby, N. C., July 2.—(AP)—Local firemen had to pour hot water on their fountain to get ice water.

The laddies, tired of tepid water, rigged up refrigerating apparatus from several coils of pipe, an old drink stand, and other accessories.

The gadget worked too well, and the boys had to thaw out an eight-inch layer of ice on the pipes before the water would flow.

HOME COMING PARADE WHEN TRAIN COMES

Freeport, Ill., July 2.—(AP)—Accused of appropriating her mother's blind pension of $30 monthly for about a year and a half, Mrs. George Thompson, 35, of nearby German Valley, was jailed today on a charge of embezzlement.

State's Attorney Harry E. Wheat said Mrs. Thompson had been authorized by her mother, Mrs. Sarah Kosier, to collect and cash the pension checks for her. He said that a year and a half ago Mrs. Thompson informed her mother the pension payments were stopped and then retained the money for her own use.

In county court Mrs. Thompson's seven children were declared dependent and sent to a children's home.

CHAS. MORRISON DEATH SUBJECT OF AN INQUEST

Coroner's Jury Finds Fatal Injury Was Accidental

An inquest was conducted at the Preston funeral home at 10:00 o'clock this morning in the death of Charles Morrison, who passed away at 11 o'clock yesterday at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital, his death resulting from injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident which occurred about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning at Highland avenue and Commercial Alley.

Wayne Gordon, who operated Morrison's motorcycle at the time of the crash, testified that after eating a lunch, he ran the cycle with Morrison riding at the rear. At Highland avenue, he said, he turned north, the motorcycle slipping beneath them and he lost control. Gordon stated that he had operated a motorcycle only once before and that he knew of the cement wall at the north end of Highland avenue, having seen it several times previously. The witness stated that he was thrown into the water and swam to shore and then saw Morrison standing in the water near the east retaining wall.

Policeman Witness
Patrolman Clarence Seagren testified that he was walking west on the south side of First street, near Highland avenue and observed the two men riding west on the motorcycle which turned north on Highland avenue. There was a loud roar of the motor, he stated, and then all was quiet. The officer stated that he did not hear the crash but suspected that such a thing had occurred and going north on Highland avenue, saw where the cycle had struck the cement wall. With his flash light he was able to discern the two men in the deep ditch. Gordon was standing waist deep in water on the west side of the ditch and Morrison about knee deep in the water on the east side, he said.

Both men appeared to be dazed and the officer testified that he directed them to points of safety, to prevent their drowning, then summoned aid and assisted taking them to the hospital. The officer stated that in his opinion, Gordon lost control of the cycle after turning north on Highland avenue

Pre-Holiday Fireworks Explosion Fatal to Five In Nampa, Ida., Last Eve

Child Touched Off Explosives in a Drug Store

Nampa, Idaho, July 2.—(AP)—The toll of a pre-holiday fireworks explosion rose to five today with the death of two more persons who were caught in the blast of a store's entire supply.

Mrs. Ernest Miller, 28, and Mrs. George Le Delle, 38, died of wounds they suffered yesterday when the fireworks display was accidentally set off. More than 15 were injured.

Fire Chief L. T. Lessinger said a child touched off a fireworks window display yesterday that turned a crowded combination drug store and beauty parlor into an inferno of darting explosives.

Mrs. T. C. Daniels, 29, her dress a sudden sheet of flame, died in the store.

Practical Joke?
East St. Louis, Ill., July 2.—(AP)—Filing of a burial permit disclosed today Carl Shepard, 35 years old, died June 21 of the effects of a bullet wound suffered in a prank in 1926.

Records at police headquarters show that late one night, Shepard crept to the window of his home and made a noise, intending to frighten his brother Earl, mistaking him for a burglar. Earl fired a pistol. The bullet struck Carl, lodging in the pelvic bone.

An unsuccessful operation was performed to remove the bullet. An infection developed and Carl became an invalid, bedridden since 1933. Death resulted from acute toxemia.

SUBSTITUTE OFFERED BY MR. ROBINSON

Will Ask His Bill Be Debated When Senate Meets

Washington, July 2.—(AP)—A Democratic substitute for the Roosevelt court bill went before the Senate today with an explanation by Senator Robinson, majority leader, that it would permit three appointments to the Supreme Court within the next six months.

Robinson said the bill, based upon the theory of one appointment to the court a year, would permit two new justices to be added within that time in addition to an appointment to fill the existing vacancy.

The substitute was offered jointly by Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz.) of the Senate judiciary committee and Senators Logan (D-Ky.) and Hatch (D-NM.). Hatch was one of the 10 members of the judiciary committee who approved an adverse report on the original Roosevelt bill.

The substitute moves the retirement age up to 75 and provides that additional justices can be appointed annually by the President for those serving past that age.

For Court Proctor
The substitute retains the provision of the original for a Supreme Court proctor to advise on the condition of the lower courts and the assignment of additional judges to meet congestion.

It contains a new provision for speedy appeal to the Supreme Court of lower court decisions involving constitutionality of acts of Congress.

Robinson said Attorney General Cummings and Solicitor General Reed had "been very helpful" in drafting the new bill.

Opponents of the Roosevelt bill used the substitute proposed today by Robinson as an argument for sidetracking the entire issue.

They contended the new measure should be referred to the judiciary committee, which studied the original bill but did not investigate alternate proposals.

The foes expressed confidence the committee would bury the Robinson bill, at least for the remainder of this session.

Test Next Week
Administration forces fought this procedure. The test will come next week when Robinson moves that his bill be debated instead of the Roosevelt measure.

Robinson suggested appointment of new justices to the court at the rate of one a year, if members over 75 do not retire. Any increase would be temporary, with a return to the present size as the older justices retired or died.

The original Roosevelt bill calls for immediate appointment of a new justice for each incumbent over 70. The court would remain at the increased size.

The Robinson bill also would limit the appointment of additional lower court judges to a maximum of 20, instead of the 50 fixed in the President's bill. Any increases there would be temporary.

Daily Health

By DR. IAGO GALDSTON

Genius And Heredity
"Great wit is to madness near allied," wrote Dryden.

There is no statistical evidence to bolster his contention, but a study of genius made by W. Lange-Eichbaum reveals that this rare flower often grows in morbid soil.

This observation has significant bearing upon the problem of sterilization, for, as authorities have pointed out, sterilization might readily cut off from the race some of its most valuable members.

Feeblemindedness breeds no genius. But those who have been afflicted with various forms of mental disease, and especially with that form known as manic-depressive psychosis, have been parents to certain of the world's greatest men.

Histories of the men of genius, as given by Lange-Eichbaum, indicate that many valuable members of society, worth more to it than the cost of maintenance of all state institutions put together, would have been lost if sterilization laws had been in force a few centuries ago.

According to Lange-Eichbaum's study, the grandfather and father of Hans Christian Andersen, whose fairy tales have been the delight of generations of children, were psychotic (mentally disordered). His mother was a drunkard and died from delirium tremens.

The great French novelist, Honore de Balzac, was a psychotic personality. His father, during a depression lasting 20 years, did not leave his bed, though not physically ill. The father and grandmother of Ludwig von Beethoven were drunkards.

The great Russian novelist Dostoevski suffered from epilepsy. The mother of Lord Byron was a hysterical personality, and her father died by suicide. The father of Buonarroti Michelangelo suffered from periodic attacks of insanity, with delusions of persecution.

Sir Isaac Newton was psychotic from 50 years of age on. The father of Edgar Allan Poe was a psychopathic personality, and his mother was a vagrant actress.

Many of the men of genius belong to the manic-depressive types of personalities. Of this group, Dr. Oswald Bumke has said:

"If we would extinguish the manic-depression from the world, we would deprive ourselves of an immeasurable amount of the beautiful and good, of color and warmth, of spirit and freshness in our lives. Finally, only dazed up bureaucrats and schizophrenics would be left."

treatments which have been sold to the public during recent years.

Despite the advances recently made in treating skin diseases, psoriasis remains the most baffling ailment of this type. Its cause is undefined. Its positive, permanent cure is impossible.

Treatment, so as to reduce scaling and limit its spread, is available to the psoriasis sufferer and is effective in most cases. But such treatment seldom effects a cure. If a cure should follow, it cannot be properly ascribed to the treatment.

When a true cure for psoriasis is discovered, this joyous news will reach the public through the established channels of instruction and not by way of the advertising columns.

In the meantime the psoriasis sufferer can benefit by sun bathing, by generous use of soap and water, and by applying—under medical supervision—a variety of salves, notably ammoniated mercury and chrysarobin.

The latter should be used only on medical instruction. Applied to the face or scalp, chrysarobin may cause serious burns. At certain stages of the psoriasis lesion—as when the patches are spreading rapidly, and the affected skin appears red, inflamed and oozing—chrysarobin may aggravate rather than benefit the condition.

The psoriasis sufferer may gather some assurance, if not satisfaction, from these facts:

Psoriasis is neither contagious nor communicable. In other words it is not "catching". Psoriasis frequently affects those in otherwise good, if not perfect health.

There is no other known definite disease condition which invariably or frequently co-exists with psoriasis, though some believe that arthritis is more commonly found among psoriatics than in the general population.

Nothing definite is known about the hereditary susceptibility of the children of psoriatics, to develop psoriasis. Sometimes two children in one family are affected by it.

Tomorrow—The Story of Psoriasis

Trade Review

New York, July 2—(AP)—Retail distribution was the only branch of industry to make advances of any consequence this week, Dun & Bradstreet reported today in the weekly review of business.

Stimulated by Fourth of July and vacation necessities, sales for the country as a whole were 3 to 6 per cent above the preceding week and 10 to 20 per cent above the 1936 comparative.

"Industrial divisions felt the effect of the holiday schedule but the usual summer let-down has failed to appear this far," the agency said. "In wholesale markets the pace was steadier, reorders contributing the bulk of volume."

Increases in principal areas included middle west 15 to 25.

Commenting on industrial activity the report added:

"Manufacturers of neither farm equipment nor tractor planned to effect the customary curtailment this summer, due to the slow reduction of backlogs. Little variance from the June rate was indicated for automobile assemblies during the recent month, and the uptrend in retail demand may leave many factories with but a brief pause for the change over to production on 1938 models."

Venedy to Observe Its Centennial

Venedy, Ill., July 2—(AP)—This little Washington county town of 151 inhabitants will observe its 100th birthday tomorrow and Sunday with parades, contests and speeches.

G. T. Brockschmidt, a German, laid out the town in 1837. It was first called Brockschmidt's town in his honor. Adolph Brockschmidt, the present mayor, is a descendant of the founder. The St. Salvator Lutheran church here, originally a crude log house, is one of the oldest churches in southern Illinois.

BLACKHAWK AREA SCOUTS VISITED HUGE MONUMENT

Also World Jamboree Scout Contingent; Foreign Scouts

(Special to the Telegraph via Mail)

Washington, D. C., July 2—Boys of the Blackhawk area attending the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Washington, D. C., a bit disappointed at not seeing President Roosevelt at the opening campfire as had been anticipated, forgot their loss Thursday and Friday as brilliant sunshine bathed the camp and put an end to the rainy weather that has marked every evening since the jamboree opened.

With their appetites appeased with splendid food prepared excellently, the boys had nothing to worry about. A hearty breakfast including fruit and a cook cereal is followed each day by a luncheon at noon of soup, cold meat and some sort of salad, while the evening meal is a dinner in every sense of the word and includes roast meat, vegetables, soup, dessert and plenty of milk.

Today, Friday, was given over to one of the most interesting trips the gang has taken thus far. It included a visit to the world jamboree Scout contingent as well as thrilling trip through the encampments of the foreign Scouts who greeted each of the boys most enthusiastically and tried their best to explain the differences in Scouting in their countries.

The climax to the trip was a short climb to the base of the towering Washington monument, and as the group approached there was a noticeable quickening of the step of all the boys as they were touched with the splendor of the tradition surrounding the monument. An elevator trip to the top put the finishing touches on the experience and left all of the boys wide-eyed with delight.

SCHNAPPS HAS HAMBLETONIAN INSIDE TRACK

Toledo, O., July 2—(AP)—Schnapps, a three-year-old colt owned by W. N. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N. C., held an edge on the Hambletonian hopefuls today with victory in the $3,300 Matron Stakes, feature of the Grand Circuit harness racing card.

Nine of the Hambletonian nominees entered the event at Fort Miami track last night, but Will Caton drove Schnapps to victory in two straight heats, winning handily. He finished fifth in the third heat after leading to the three-quarter pole.

Dr. Hugh M. Parshall, the Urbana, O., reinsman, drove Craftsman to a three-heat triumph in the 15-class trot. There was little opposition, Parshall winning every heat. Craftsman is owned by John Davis, president of the Toledo Grand Circuit association.

Harry Stokes came through with another straight-heat victory by driving Prince Spencer across the line in the 24-class pace, also run in three heats.

Sonny Boy, get of the famous Single G, dashed to the front in the one-mile event.

Firemen Rush to Battle Oil Well Blaze at Patoka

Centralia, Ill., July 1—(AP)—Fire fighting equipment of Centralia and Vandalia was rushed to Patoka, 12 miles north of here, early this afternoon after village officials reported one of the little town's nine producing oil wells was ablaze.

"It looks like a bad fire," Centralia police said they reported. L. E. Green, cashier of the Patoka bank, said the fire started in the Jeff Smith well, situated beside U. S. highway 51, almost in the center of the town. He said he did not know how the fire started.

The Smith well came in June 17 at 1,447 feet, and has been producing about 100 barrels a day. Oil-rippers reported it was a "gassy" well. "No smoking" signs were erected on and around the premises.

Interest in the southern Illinois oil development has centered at Patoka, a village of about 600 population, the first well came in on Jan. 27. Since then, almost a score have been started and nine are producing.

100 Years Ago

First Episcopal Service Was Conducted Here July 2, 1937

One hundred years ago, on July 28, 1837, the first Episcopal church service was conducted at Dixon's Ferry by the Right Reverend Philander Chase, then Bishop of Illinois. The service was held in an upper room of a storehouse belonging to a Mr. Bowen.

Bishop Chase in his "Reminiscences" writes that the "congregation was considerable as to numbers and devout in deportment. Some respectable young men living down the Rock river were present and joined in the service. Their influence, joined with that of some worthy inhabitants of the place, seemed to assure a permanent footing, could a missionary of our church be fixed there."

On Monday, July 3rd, the Bishop preached at "Gran de Tour" where he found that "a number of Episcopalians were anxious for a clergyman." On Tuesday, July 4th, another service was held at Dixon's Ferry.

Following the visit of Bishop Chase the Rev. James De Pui was stationed out here as Missionary-at-large on the Rock river.

Bishop Chase was a large, heavily built man weighing about 220 pounds, with a dynamic personality. His rugged simplicity made him acquire friends easily. There is a story told of his staying over night at a small inn on one of his numerous trips. During the night a husky, morose stranger arrived and wanted the Bishop to get out so that he could use the bed. "Get up," he told the Bishop, "before I throw you out of the window." "My friend," replied the Bishop, holding up a brawny arm, "please feel that arm and then if you still want to do any throwing out, go ahead." And the Bishop was not further disturbed.

Bishop Chase was the founder of Kenyon College in Gambier, and Bexley Hall, Ohio and Jubilee College which is to be restored and kept as a state shrine.

When the Bishop made a trip to England for funds with which to finance the building of Kenyon College it was said that no bishop like Chase had been seen in England for a thousand years.

FIREWORKS DO NOT MIX WITH AUTOMOBILES

Riders Warned Not To Toss Torpedoes From Autos

Fireworks and motor cars are a dangerous combination, the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness emphasized today in a pre-Fourth of July bulletin.

"The practice of tossing firecrackers and torpedoes from cars already has resulted in burns to pedestrians in Illinois communities," the bulletin states, "and drivers have reported that explosive missiles have been thrown into their cars by youths and children standing on street corners."

The society has enlisted the aid of club groups, parents, and law enforcement agencies in its fight to outlaw the sale of fireworks in Illinois.

"The toll of deaths and injuries is being cut down gradually each year, and we hope that next year will see a large number of Illinois communities ban the sale of fireworks as a danger to life and property," said Miss Audrey H. Hayden, executive secretary of the society.

Fly-by-night roadside stands which sell any quantities of oversize firecrackers to children, provide the biggest problem now confronting state authorities. The only solution to the fireworks evil, Miss Hayden asserted, is a complete ban on all fireworks sales and on the unregulated use of the dangerous toys. Displays in the hands of competent persons at public celebrations are endorsed by the society.

MAN PLAGUED MOSTLY BY HIS OWN FOLLIES

A new form of bubonic plague is prevalent among animals in the western United States, and it may spread to the east and become extremely dangerous to man.

So says Dr. C. R. Eskey of the U. S. Public Health Service, in an address before the American Association for the Advancement of Science, in Denver.

Ever since 1908, it has been known that certain ground squirrels in California have been carrying the bacillus pestis, which is responsible for the disease that in times past has decimated whole continents. Within the last two years, says Dr. Eskey, it has been discovered that the malady is spreading among small animals in seven other states. It has turned up in Utah, for instance, in a region separated from California by a wide desert—indicating that no natural barriers will check its spread.

So far, the victims have been squirrels—for the most part. But it would not take a very outlandish combination of circumstances to promote this plague from its present status as ravisher of ground squirrels to advance agent for the Angel of Death among American human beings.

There is need to worry very much about it. It probably won't happen—and, if it did, the science and organization are available to check it. But it is worth speculating about briefly, just the same.

Suppose bubonic plague should suddenly begin to spread—in America, in Europe and in Asia. The civilized nations of the world would at once unite to stamp it out. The best brains and the best equipment would be marshaled for the job, and a great international campaign to save lives would be started.

Scientists from Germany, America, Japan and all other countries would work side by side; there would be the most complete co-operation, and it would last until the last vestige of danger had disappeared.

For when this race of ours gets really frightened—when it has to stand face to face with the grim spectre of nature's hostility—it can achieve an inverted but effective kind of brotherhood. It can forget its rivalries, its jealousies and its suspicions and concentrate magnificently on the job of making the world a safe place to live in.

But consider, now, the danger the world actually faces today. Not bubonic plague, but war; not a natural pestilence, but a man-made peril—which, in its destructive effects, would be five times worse than any plague that ever existed. Where is the international co-operation to avert this danger? Where is the marshaling of the best minds, the sinking of old enmities, to make the world a safe place to live in?

Nowhere. We can meet any challenge our environment throws in our faces; but the greatest challenge of all—the one that arises from our own greed and blindness—we cannot meet. We can conquer all our enemies, it seems, except ourselves.

SYMPATHY FOR KILLER

It is never pleasant to watch a man being condemned to death. Even worse, however, is the craven squirming that a supposedly bold killer will give way to when he finds the grim processes of the law clamping inexorably down on him.

Lester Brockelhurst, 23-year-old ex-Sunday school teacher, went on a lawless hitch-hiking tour and cold-bloodedly killed three men. Caught, at last, he was tried in Lono, Ark., and convicted of murder. And as the jury's verdict was read, he first—according to press dispatches—burst into tears, and then fainted dead away.

Now you can't help feeling a certain involuntary sympathy for a man who has to stand and hear his own death sentence being read. But one's sympathy in this particular case is apt to be very short-lived. This precious young tough killed three men—not in the heat of passion, or to save his own life, but coldly, needlessly, premeditatedly. Brought to book for it, he could only cry and faint in abject terror. Does he, in fact, have any great amount of sympathy coming to him?

BUILT HIS OWN MEMORIALS

Col. Hugh L. Cooper, who died the other day after an uncommonly active and useful life, certainly left behind him plenty of visible memorials to his own achievements.

For it was Colonel Cooper who designed and built the great power water project at Muscle Shoals. He it was who threw the Keokuk dam across the Mississippi, who built similar dams and power stations in Canada, Mexico, Brazil, Chile and Egypt—and who, to cap the climax, put through the tremendous hydro-electric project on the Dnieper river for the Soviet government.

A builder on that titanic scale needs no monument. All across the world he has his own monuments—huge, enduring, enormously useful monuments. For once the old saw is literally true—his work lives after him.

"SAVING M. LEWIS' FACE"

When the Senate committee on postoffices got away from its prime objective, determining who was interfering with delivery of United States mails and opening mailed packages, and began investigating executives of steel corporations, it had Tom Girdler of the Republic Steel corporation before it.

Senator Rush Holt, West Virginia Democrat, asked him if it were not a fact that the current strike was "to enable Mr. Lewis to claim he's won a victory in your plants and go before the country with that claim."

Girdler replied: "Certainly. It's even been suggested to me by responsible people in the government that maybe there's something we could do to save Mr. Lewis' face."

SHOULD WE CULTIVATE THE HABIT OF FORGETTING AS WELL AS THE HABIT OF REMEMBERING? YES OR NO—

The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea. (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. A study of this characteristic in the two sexes was made at Columbia by William Moulton Marston, psychologist, and he reports that the average woman gave men credit for 14 commendable characteristics and 20 undesirable ones, but men gave women credit for 29 undesirable qualities and only 12 commendable ones.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Dr. Alvin R. Lauer, psychologist, recently measured the reading rate of a large group of students and found that within this group the brilliant ones read only slightly faster than the average. Perhaps if brilliant students were compared with rather slow people mentally—say those of the eighth grade intelligence level—the difference in reading rate would be much greater. He found, however, that rapid reading did usually indicate wide knowledge of cultural subjects such as literature, social science, history and science—the students in literature scoring the fastest, as a rule. By a little practice his students improved an average of one-third in speed of reading.

Of course, you cannot in a moment forget an unhappy experience or irritating person but you can cultivate habits and attitudes that will aid you immensely in getting a happier view of life and getting rid of unpleasant, disturbing memories. Dr. Henry Link tells how to remember what you most want to remember in his delightful little booklet written especially for our readers, "How to Improve Your Memory." Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

Twizzler Halstead gives you today's Twizzler.

A number of years ago a man walked into a small crossroads store to purchase a cigar. After inspecting the stock he selected a five-cent cigar and gave the storekeeper a dollar bill. The storekeeper looked in his till and said, "Sorry, mister, I can't change your bill; is that all you have?"

"No," said the man, "I have a five dollar bill but you can't change that if you can't change a one-dollar bill." "Oh, yes I can," answered the storekeeper—and he did, in legal tender, too. How did he do it?

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler: Five trucks—$5,000. One motor car—$300. And 94 loading cars—$4,700, totalling 100 vehicles for $10,000.

The first might have encouraged the abolition of the slave traffic; the second, a needless hatred of a related people. Suggested by the fact of Independence Day falling

FIFTY-NINE CCC CAMPS OPERATED

10,000 Men Will Get Assignments To These Camps

Washington, July 2—(AP)—The emergency conservation work office has announced it would operate 59 civilian conservation corps camps with a total of approximately 10,000 men in Illinois during the first quarter of the fiscal year begun today.

The administration said 58 now in operation would be continued and that a new one would be established in Lincoln Log Cabin State Park, Coles county.

The new camp and one already established there will complete and furnish a replica of the log cabin built by Thomas Lincoln, father of Abraham Lincoln, after the family moved to Illinois from Kentucky.

The administration said the cabin was being built on the foundation of the original and would include the original chimney.

Enrollees at 23 camps will work on soil erosion control projects, 22 will work on state park improvement and development, six on drainage projects, one on a private forest project and one on a military reservation.

In the days of the Mayflower only the class of the gentlemen from England such as ministers, physicians and their wives, bore the title of Mr. and Mrs. Others were called "goodman" or "goodwife."

on Sunday this year the pastor will speak on a related theme: "A Declaration of Dependence." Service begins 10:00 A. M.

In the evening the young people gather at 7:00 P. M. The evening worship follows at 7:30 P. M. at which the pastor will preach on "The Thirst of the Soul."

himself has received no such assurance.

He wants the job very much. The big obstacle in his path is the fact that he will be 65 on August 26. This is five years over the maximum age limit announced by the President for his appointments to the Federal bench.

White House insiders say Joe's chances of being named to the Supreme Court depend on an increase in its size. If Congress adds two or more justices, Joe will be one of the group of new jurists. If Congress turns down the President's plan and he is left with only the Van Devanter vacancy to fill, Joe will not be the choice.

Merry-Go-Round

Mrs. William A. Becker, President General of the D. A. R., took no chances that her forthcoming presentation at the British court would be overlooked. Press releases about the event were sent by special delivery to all Washington correspondents. . . Bill Bray, private secretary to Postmaster General Jim Farley, is the proud possessor of a law degree which he obtained by going to night school. . . Says Mrs. Charles O. Andrews, wife of Florida's senior U. S. Senator: "I am not a suffragist, but now that women have the vote I want them to use it intelligently." . . Attendance in the congressional galleries has increased perceptibly since the coming of hot weather. Both chambers are air-conditioned and many Washingtonians spend afternoons there. . . Once a daily figure on Washington's bride paths, Senator Bill Borah is no longer seen there. The Idahoan abandoned horse-back riding a year ago at the suggestion of his doctor.

Special for Southern Papers: Available to all Subscribers: Cotton Rival

While the Brazilian Finance Minister, Dr. Souza Costa, is in Washington discussing with the State Department officials the possibility of putting more life into the Brazil-U. S. trade agreement, an old item has appeared in the latest list of U. S. imports from Brazil. This country, largest producer of cotton in the world, is actually importing cotton from Brazil. This has happened in the past in trifling quantities. A total of seven bales were imported in 1935. But this year, during the month of May alone, the importation of Brazilian cotton amounted to 1,711 bales of 50 pounds each. This invasion follows closely on Brazilian success in the German market, where this year, for the first time in history, Brazil has surpassed the United States in the sale of cotton.

Budge Winner of All-England Net Meet, Wimbledon

Wimbledon, Eng., July 2—(AP)—Don Budge, lanky red-head from Oakland, Calif., today won the All-England singles tennis championship, blasting Germany's Baron Gottfried Von Cramm off the courts in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

The American Davis Cup star's decisive triumph climaxed a brilliant performance by Budge throughout the famed Wimbledon tournament. Enroute to the title relinquished by Fred Perry, now a professional, Budge dropped only one set and that to his Davis Cup teammate, Frankie Parker of Milwaukee.

For Von Cramm it was his second successive trouncing in Wimbledon's final. He lost to Perry last year, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

Budge required only an hour and five minutes to annex the title. Immediately after the match both went to the royal box to be introduced. Both Budge and Von Cramm shook hands with the smiling Queen Mother who, wearing dark glasses had watched the last two sets with the greatest interest.

Budge bowed slightly and beamed all over his face as he backed out of the box after receiving Queen Mary's congratulations. The American ace is in the finals of the mixed double with Alice Marble, the U. S. women's titleholder. They will meet the winner of today's match between Yvon Petre and Mme. Rene Mathieu of France and Daniel Prienn, self-exiled German Jew, and Evelyn Dearman of England.

$10,000 Debt Costs Man $7 More A Week Alimony To His Wife

Chicago, July 1—(AP)—A $10,000 debt to a Clinton, Ill. bank, with stocks and bonds as collateral, today cost Irwin S. Fosnaugh, 30, $7 a week more in temporary alimony to his estranged wife, Ruth, 28.

Judge John S. Lowe raised the weekly sum he must pay Mrs. Fosnaugh for the support of their seven-year-old son to $15 when Attorney Harry Cole told the court Fosnaugh was able to pay more than $8 and submitted evidence of the bank loan and two brokerage accounts maintained by Fosnaugh.

The Fosnaughs were married Jan. 21, 1929, shortly after her graduation from the University of Illinois, and separated April 6. Cole said Fosnaugh's parents were wealthy residents of Clinton. Fosnaugh is a commerce student at Northwestern University.

He said he had earned only $10 this year.

Economy" Unknown Word to Illinois Legislature

Springfield, Ill., July 2—(AP)—Appropriations by the 1937 legislature totaled $468,101,912, far in excess of previous records for authorized governmental expenditures and also greater than Governor Horner's unbalanced budget estimates for the biennium beginning today.

The revised budget in mid-session estimated the state's income during the next two years would be $438,451,600, nearly $30,000,000 less than the amount voted by the assembly.

Vetoes of some items were expected as the governor goes over the money bills during the next 12 days. Finance officials made no comment on the revenue situation and their hopes for keeping the state out of the red during the next two years.

The legislature, boosting appropriations, passed no major bill to increase the state's income after it extended the three per cent sales tax and reinstated the utility tax.

Figures Announced

House Chairman James P. Boyle of Chicago announced the final appropriation figures as the regular session adjourned.

Of the totals $234,968,018 was appropriated from the general revenue fund, $222,363,310 from earmarked or specially dedicated funds, $9,001,584 represented reappropriations and $2,096,000 was to meet deficiencies during the old biennium.

Boyle pointed out that $75,000 was voted for emergency relief, $25,000,000 for old age pensions and $26,000,000 for school aid.

Previous Record

The 1935 regular session set the previous high mark by authorizing expenditures of $388,999,244, which the four special sessions increased to $445,404,983.

Appropriations have steadily increased during recent years, the totals being $366,449,468 for the 1931 biennium and $270,450,763 for 1927.

The Horner administration's revised budget, submitted in mid-session, was out of balance by $3,585,098, recommending that expenditures be limited to $442,126,698.

Showing no effort at economy, the legislature amended the appropriation bills to increase the totals by $2,959,649, largely for payrolls.

Boyle's figures did not include an already vetoed item of $798,000 for high school aid.

MT. MORRIS

By Paline Yoe

With masses of white hydrangea, deep blue delphinium and pink roses forming a colorful background, Miss Ethel Elizabeth Allen became the bride of John D. Yeakel in the Methodist Episcopal church at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in one of the season's most beautiful weddings. A large congregation of friends and relatives were present for the double ring ceremony which was read by the Rev. Reynold N. Hoover, pastor of the church.

A half hour musical prelude to the service was provided by Richard Hudson, organist who also played the wedding marches and accompanied Robert Gloss while he sang, "Oh, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "At Dawning".

Leading the bridal party were Miss Eunice Long of Freeport, in green, and Miss Margaret Allen, sister of the bride, in yellow. They were followed by Miss Miriam Yeakel of Hammond, Ind., a sister of the groom, in blue, and Miss Myrtle Allen, another sister of the bride, in pink. Designed identically, their net gowns had full bouffant skirts and fitted bodices with low necklines. They wore garlands of matching flowers in their hair caught in the back with ribbon bands which fell to their waists and carried colonial bouquets of pastel flowers.

The maid of honor, Miss Ruth Coffman of Polo, wore a similar net gown in a peach shade. In her arms she carried delphinium and corn flowers.

Miss Allen, who was given in marriage by her father, Fess Q. Allen, was lovely in a gown of white net over satin. Her fingertip veil of tulle fell in graceful folds from a wreath of lilies-of-the-valley and gardenias. Her bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and gypsophila was tied with satin ribbons.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Allen wore a frock of navy blue with white accessories and gardenias. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. John K. Yeakel of Polo, who attended the ceremony with Mr. Yeakel, wore a frock of cell blue. A pink rose centered her corsage of sweet peas.

The corps of ushers included the bride's two brothers, Robert and Roy Allen, and Eldon Coffman and Edward Tyne of Polo. The bridegroom's best man was Binkley Mades, also of Polo.

The bride cut her wedding cake at the home of her parents, 103 E. Front street, where the reception took place following the wedding. White roses and white tapers decorated the table.

The bride wore a dress of blue printed chiffon over tulle with matching accessories when she and her husband left by motor on a two weeks wedding trip.

Mrs. Yeakel was graduated from Mount Morris high school with the class of 1931 and later attended Mount Morris college. She is em-

ARE YOU A GOOD DRIVER?

How are you at judging distances? You may think you're pretty good, but wait until you see how you make out on the distance-judging machine of the Chicago Motor Club, shown above with Miss Betty Winkler, NBC radio actress, looking into the visor, with Harold W. Moore, Motor Club engineer, standing. The machine is one of many which will be used in the "Safe Drivers' Clinic" of the motor club which will be in Dixon from July 6 to July 10 inclusive.

Present and future drivers of this vicinity will have an opportunity to find out how good they are when the Safe Drivers' clinic of the Chicago Motor club offers its free tests at Chester Barriage's new super-service station.

According to Ralph Hall, local club manager, the tests are "made with apparatus specially designed to reveal weaknesses in driving."

"A driver's braking reaction time, for instance, is tested to the hundredth of a second," he said. "You sit in an automobile seat before dummy controls, your foot on the accelerator. Suddenly a light flashes red before you, and you must transfer your foot to the brake pedal. The average person need 44 of a second.

Dr. C. H. Hightower, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, read the service before an improvised altar formed with a pink and white arch banked with baskets of roses and delphinium.

Mrs. John Wilt was the nuptial pianist and she played and sang "O Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony.

Attending the bride were her sister-in-law, Mrs. Merlyn Gibbs, matron of honor, and little Phyllis Horst, flower girl. Mr. Gibbs served Mr. Osborne as best man.

The bride wore an aqua blue lace gown and carried a colonial bouquet of tea roses. Mrs. Gibbs wore pink silk crepe and carried sweet peas and roses. Phyllis also wore pink and carried a basket of rose petals which she scattered in the path of the bride.

Both the bride's mother and Mrs. Osborne wore flowered print frocks as they watched the ceremony.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Osborne left for a week-end trip to Milwaukee. They are making their home at an apartment at 320 E. Center street. Mr. Osborne is employed with Kable Brothers company and his bride is assistant in the office of Dr. Paul Boyle.

Time in it's flight turned backward for Mrs. Leeland Cratty and her guests this week as the young women participated in a reunion party in the Prugh garden Monday morning.

Mrs. Cratty, who before her marriage was Kitty Prugh, is a house guest in the Brayton Road home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Prugh, and on Sunday evening she was joined there by her lifelong friend, Mrs. Charles A. Schrieber of Chicago, who will be remembered by her friends here as Miss Helma Davison, and Miss Carolyn Backman of Amboy, who were guests of the Prughs until Tuesday evening. Other guests at the breakfast Monday were Mrs. Gerald Hough and her house guest Mrs. Harold Hough, who was known as Alvis Yetter when she played in the garden with Kitty a number of years ago, and Mrs. Harold Tracy (Bud Stage).

The garden in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Arnold of Cerro Gordo was the scene Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock of the wedding of their daughter Miss Mildred Arnold and Merlyn Shook, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. F. Shook of Mt. Morris.

The young couple repeated their vows before a vine covered arbor, surrounded by bright garden flowers. The double ring wedding service was read by the Rev. Wayne Car, a former Mt. Morris college student and present pastor of the Church of the Brethren at nearby La Place.

Walking slowly across the lawn with the bride on one arm and her sister, Mrs. Paul Smith on the other Mr. Arnold approached the altar where he gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was charming in a gown of aqua blue lace over satin, fashioned on princess lines, and carrying an arm bouquet of tea roses and delphinium. Mrs. Smith, who attended her sister, was attired in yellow tissue organza and carried yellow roses and blue delphinium. Mr. Smith attended Mr. Shook as groomsman.

Mrs. Arnold chose a frock of black lace for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Shook wore a dress of flowered chiffon.

After the wedding a reception was held on the lawn followed by dinner in the house. White carnations decorated the bride's table while baskets of garden flowers were placed throughout the home.

When Mr. and Mrs. Shook left on their wedding trip to Decatur and St. Louis the bride was wearing a pink coat over a white frock with white accessories. They returned to the home of the bride's parents Thursday where Mrs. Shook was the guest of honor at a shower given by her friends there. They are leaving Cerro Gordo today for Chicago where they will spend the week end and will return to Mt. Morris Monday evening. For the present they will make their home in an apartment in the home of the groom's parents.

Mrs. Shook, who was graduated from the high school in Cerro Gordo, has made her home for some years with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lizer.

Mr. Shook was graduated from Mt. Morris high school with the class of 1932. Both are employed with Kable Brothers company.

Guests at the wedding were Mrs. Wayne Car, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shively, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cripe and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Arnold, all of La Place, Mary and Robert Arnold.

Miss Olive James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther James, became the bride of Carl Beard, son of Mrs. Clara Beard at 3 o'clock last Friday afternoon at her apartment at 107 N. Wesley avenue. Rev. Reynold N. Hoover, pastor of the Methodist church read the ceremony before a flower altar of roses, peonies and ferns in the presence of the immediate relatives.

The bride wore an afternoon frock of blue lace and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses for her wedding and for the trip to Monona Lake near Madison where they spent a few days before returning to Mt. Morris.

Mrs. Beard received her educa-wood, which occurred Saturday in the Wee Kirk of the Heather at Glendale, Calif. The present address of the newly wedded pair is 668 South Rampart boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. James Watt are sailing from Gloucester and will arrive in Montreal a week from tomorrow. With them are coming Mr. Watt's sister, Mrs. William Sinclair and her daughter Margaret of Korkwood, Orkney, Scotland.

About 30 folks, members of the front office employees of Kable's with their wives and husbands enjoyed a pleasant picnic party on the lawn of the Howard Bronsons Monday evening. After supper the evening hours were spent playing ball and croquet with a song fest around the piano in the living room, providing a "happy ending."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Heinhorst of Chatsworth announces the marriage of their daughter, Elsie, of Mt. Morris, to Wayne Wilson.

Rev. J. E. Widmerfi uncle of the bride read the marriage service in the Evangelical church at Belvidere Saturday afternoon.

The bride is employed with the Kable News company and Mr. Wilson is associated with Poultry Tribune. They will make their home in an apartment in the Blue Bird.

Mrs. Madeline Daugherty and Miss Doris Buser were initiated into the Eastern Star at their regular meeting Monday evening.

The scramble dinner preceding the meeting was attended by about 40 members and their families. The center table carried a centerpiece of a bride and groom, honoring Mrs. Lillian Colburn, a recent bride, while the two long tables carried out the patriotic colors with American Beauty roses as centerpieces. Guests were present from Freeport, Lanark, Polo, Dixon, Holcomb and Belvidere.

On Sunday afternoon the Bertha M. Eagle club met at Dixon and entertained the associate matrons and associate patrons who formed the Lillian G. Burchby club for 1937. Northwestern Is Straightening a Sterling Curve

With a view to increasing the speed of its fast trains and, at the same time make riding easier for its passengers, the Chicago & North Western railroad is straightening the curve east of Sterling. A considerable force of men is at work on the job, the culvert is being rebuilt and other changes and improvements made.

The present speed limit of the curve is 70 miles an hour in safety. The steamers hit a schedule of 90 miles and are forced to slow down at this curve, which necessitates picking up of a speed considerably over 90 miles in order to make up for the time lost in dropping to 70 miles. The straightening of the curve will not only eliminate this, but will make the riding much more comfortable.

Gas House Gang Is Finding Cubs And Giants Can Hit

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Gas House Gangsters are still rough, tough and nasty, but they're learning fast and from experts that they'll need lots more than an ability to dish it out in order to string along in the current National League dog-fight.

It was all very well for the Cardinals while they were monopolizing the chip-on-shoulder, knock-down-drag-out business, but since the Giants and Cubs both have picked up sizeable portions of the same stuff, the St. Louis crew isn't looking so hot.

In fact, in their last two series, against the Giants and Cubs, they haven't even been luke warm. As a result, today they're creaking along in a third-place tie with the Pittsburgh Pirates, while the Cubs and Giants are racing 3½ and three games, respectively, in front of them.

Yesterday Frankie Frisch sent Jim Winford to the wars and the Cubs pinned his ears back, 6-3, after Frisch and shortstop Lippy Leo Durocher were banned for rowing with the umpire. Ripper Collins' homer with two aboard was the payoff wallop.

Cubs Had to Win
The Cubs had to win to stay out in front, for the Giants, as anxious as a mother hen in their drive to hit the top by the July 4 deadline, knocked over the Phillies, 8-6, on Wally Berger's pinch-homer in the clutch, with two on base and two away in the ninth, to remain a half-game off the pace.

Although they won a 12-7 burlesque from the Athletics, the Yankees were a sorry set. Twinkles Selkirk, their slugging outfielder, fell while making a circus catch and suffered an injury to his right shoulder that will keep him on the shelf several days.

Brooklyn's Dodgers finally ended their scoreless streak at 36 consecutive innings, but one run was the total of their production, and the Boston Bees turned in a 4-1 victory behind Johnny Lanning's three-hit flinging, for their sixth win in a row.

The White Sox climbed all over Detroit pitching and came through with a 15-8 victory. The Senators made it two in a row over the Boston Red Sox with a 3-2 decision behind Jimmy Deshon's nine-hitter.

The Pirates and Reds were not scheduled. Wet grounds kept the Browns and Indians out of action.

Here and There In Sports World

By EDDIE BRIETZ
New York, July 2—(AP)—When Mike Jacobs puts on that tight card featuring four world champions, some smart guy ought to run a lot across the street from the Yankee stadium and put on a show to take care of the overflow. Those Dodgers have managed to count once in the last 35 innings. . . . Nice going, boys. . . . Looks like Herzl Max Schmeling has done a swell job of striking himself out of a shot at the heavyweights title. . . . Dick Bartell hit his last two homers on the last day of May and the last day of June.

You've heard those squawks about this player and that being left off the all-star teams. . . . Now you know why the poor guys who manage those outfits think there is a hopeless job. . . . Commissioner Landis and Presidents Frick and Harbridge would do well to put the naming of the players back in the hands of the fans—where it started and where it belongs. . . . Terry ignored Heinie Manush of the Dodgers and the American League managers forgot about Johnny Stone of Washington, among others. . . . The fans would have had both of 'em in there. . . . The game is slipping in popularity and there's a durned good reason.

Here's a real "it" guy for you. . . . American correspondents who covered the Ryder Cup matches say Dave Rees, the smiling Britisher, has more of same than Clara Bow in her palmist days. . . . Which is plenty of "it", if you ask us. . . . Old Walter Hagen is taking a few bows for the fine job of field general he did for the Americans. . . . It must be a strange looking Hais without all those extra chins.

Many American voters are disqualified through the "moving habit", since most states have residential requirements.

$70,000 PURSE LURES RACERS TO WESTBURY

Final Qualifiers Names Withheld 'Til Tonight

Westbury, N. Y., July 2—(AP)—Thirty racing drivers, attracted from several countries by a $70,000 purse, will seek to gain tomorrow the George Vanderbilt cup which Tazio Nuvolari, the Italian, won last year with incredible ease.

The final qualifiers for the 300-mile race on the improved Roosevelt Raceway will not be known until late today. The 30 starters will be chosen on the fastest times made in the qualifying tests.

Seeking to repeat last year's performance Nuvolari, the "Mad Man of Modena", is back again, defiant of the glittering records of Bernd Rosemeyer and his German companions.

Americans Overshadowed
The performances of the foreigners in the trials have overshadowed the Americans. Wilbur Shaw, 1937 winner of the Indianapolis Memorial Day race, and Rex Mays, Californian, stood out among the home breeds.

Other Americans entered are Billy Winn, Ted Horn, Babe Stapp, Kelly Pettito and Joe Thorne, all crack drivers on the Corn Belt circuit.

A $60,000 purse will be split among the first 10 finishers and an additional $10,000 will be divided among the leading Americans.

The foreign entries have taken the headlines almost to the exclusion of the American drivers during the practice spins. Rosemeyer, leader of Germany's auto union team, and his fellow countryman, Rudolf Caracciola, have smashed record after record.

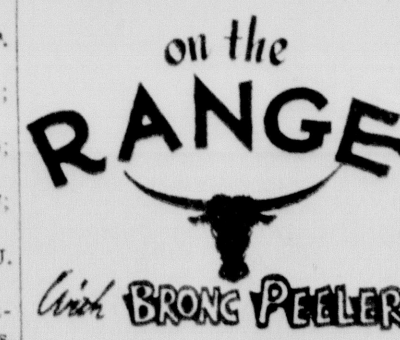

Hole-in-Oners Are Finding Targets

New York, July 2—(AP)—After a shaky start, the nation's golfers are finding the range again on their favorite hole-in-one targets.

Headlined by Albert Smith, a 17-year-old Alameda, Cal., high school student who has banged in four aces since last August, 287 names have been enrolled in the 1937 Associated Press hole-in-one club. The total, representing 38 states and Washington, D. C., is far behind last year's tally but gaining rapidly.

Among the ace shooters last to report in June was Willie Hoppe of billiard fame. Willie sank his tee shot on the 175-yard third at Orchard Hills, N. J. Frank Welsh of Rockford, Ill., reported two aces on the 140-yard fifth at the Rockford Country club. Welsh scored his first in May, his second this month.

JUNIOR RUNNERS AT MARQUETTE'S FIELD TONIGHT

Lash Not In Classic, Has Appendectomy At Auburn, Ind.

Milwaukee, July 2—(AP)—Youngsters with their reputations still to be made will run, jump and throw for junior titles tonight in Marquette stadium where tomorrow their already-famous elders will battle for senior championships in the Amateur Athletic union's 50th track and field meet.

Except for as long as it takes to find a successor to Indiana's Don Lash as 10,000 meter champion this afternoon, the juniors, a few of them with a measure of fame already acquired, but most of them unknown outside their own neighborhoods, will have the whole day and night to themselves.

Whatever the juniors accomplish, the senior championships figure to produce a brilliant, thrilling show. The field of 300 athletes includes defending champions, Olympic titlwinners and world record-holders, giving the senior division all the elements necessary for record performances, provided the weather behaves.

The big thriller promises to come out of the 1,500 meters run in which Glenn Cunningham, master of the millers, and his sensational challenger, Archie San Romani, along with such threats as Gene Venke and Chuck Feaske, will clash. The only top-flight miler missing from the field is Indiana's Don Lash, who had a date with an appendectomy today at Auburn, Ind.

Cunningham also was fooling with the idea of horning into the 800 meters race.

OPEN TENNIS TOURNAY IN SEMI-FINALS

Chicago, July 2—(AP)—Walter Senior of San Francisco, the No. 2 seeded entry, faced Samuel Hayes, Jr. of South Hadley, Mass., as the Illinois state open tennis tournament swung into one-half of its semi-finals program today.

Forest, Ill. They will meet Saturday, with the final singles match scheduled for Sunday.

Allison, top-seeded star and tourney favorite, defeated Chester Murphy, Chicago, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, while Bickel downed Gene McCauliffe, also of Chicago, 6-8, 6-3, 7-5.

Allison teamed with William Caswell, also of Austin, Tex., to win a second round men's doubles match from Jack Mee and Tom Sullivan of Chicago, 6-3, 6-4. Bill and Chester Murphy downed John Roemer of Houston, Tex., and John Cook, St. Louis, Mo., 6-2, 7-5, in another second round match. In the women's singles competition, Mrs. Marjorie Van Ryn of Austin, Tex., defeated Mrs. Franklin Clement of Lake Forest, Ill., in a third round match, 6-0, 6-0.

FOURTH ANNUAL WOMEN'S MEET IN SEMIFINALS

Livengood, Lindblad, Johnson, Cutler To Battle It Out

Elgin, Ill., July 2—(AP)—The fourth annual Illinois women's state golf tournament swept into a "double-barreled" windup at the sporty Elgin Country club layout today, with two semi-final battles and the championship tussle down for decisions.

In the morning's two semi-final matches, Miss Hilda Livengood, 18-year-old Danville star, opposed Miss Virginia Lindblad of Joliet and Miss Shirley Ann Johnson of Chicago squared away against Mrs. Ellamae Williams Cutler of the home club. The final battle was scheduled to be decided in the afternoon.

Miss Livengood advanced yesterday by downing Miss Dorothy Foster of Springfield, 3 and 1. Miss Lindblad scored a 2 and 1 decision over the Chicago district titleholder, Miss Virginia Ingram, while Mrs. Cutler downed Jeanette Smith, the 17-year-old Rockford high school senior, 5 and 4. Miss Johnson eliminated the tourney medalist, Miss Rena Nelson of Highland Park, 3 and 1.

GOOD THOUGHTS

Until we perform Divine Service in every willing act of life, we never perform it at all.

—Ruskin

No grace in itself is small. None great, though earth it fill. But that is small that seeks its own. And great that seeks God's will.

—Elizabeth Barrett Browning

We are not here to play, to dream, to drift. We have hard work to do, and loads to lift. Shun not the struggle, face it, 'tis God's gift.

—Maltbie Babcock

A perfect gift thy Father gives to thee—Thyself, with all thy powers. Yet all will be imperfect, weak, and in captivity. Till thou. His child, give all thyself away. To God and to thy brothers day by day.

—T. C. Williams

Christ Jesus was among his fellow men as one that served. The lessons the Master taught in service we must learn. The basis of true service, wherever it may be given, is love.

—Christian Science Monitor

For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? Is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth.

—Luke 22

The boys of cottage A-8 are awaiting with eager anticipation the first session of the new play class the recreation department has arranged for them. This class will meet three days a week and will present a systematic program of stories and games of a worthwhile character. Sessions will be held at the A side park and will be in charge of one of the most competent members of the department staff.

Don Grover, chief of the handlers of Sylvester, the pet turtle, on cottage A-8 announced last night that because of the failure of his charge to recover from his recent illness it would be necessary to indefinitely postpone the scheduled handicap race between Plato, the pet crow, of cottage A-9 and Mr. Grover's charge.

"The man who found himself," was the title of the feature motion picture shown to the patients at the regularly weekly movie show sponsored by the recreation department at the amusement hall Wednesday evening.

Its cherry picking time and daily great baskets of ripe luscious red cherries may be seen en route from the orchard to the kitchen to reappear later as delectable, delicious, devastating cherry pies.

The various potato fields have each received a thorough spraying this week as a protection against bugs and insects.

Our good friend Charles Moyer heads a distinguished delegation of the employee personnel from Pike county. Worth Windmiller, Sam Clift, Robert Fitzpatrick and Hurst Judd are the other members of the delegation. As long as there is a Dixon state hospital Charlie will be remembered for his staunch adherence to the principles first enunciated by the immortal Thomas Jefferson. Consequent we are pleased to advise Mr. Moyer that according to the Rushville Times:

"Pike county is the first Illinois county to abandon its county home. This action was taken last week when the board of supervisors by a vote of 20 to 2 voted to scrap the entire county farm set-up and arranged for a welfare committee to care for the seven indigent persons remaining in the county home. The Pike county home was established in 1843 and for a number of years has cost the county an average of $9,000 a year."

Amos and Andy to Change Sponsors

New York, July 2.—(AP)—Amos and Andy, who some time ago revealed they intend to change sponsors the first of the year after broadcasting since 1929 under the present arrangement, expect to sign up a new long before the current contract expires next January 1.

Just what the plans for the future are to be haven't been completed, but the boys are discussing prospects with their agents.

A. and A. said that although they would change program bosses, they had no intention of changing the style of their script.

They intend to return to Palm Springs, Calif., now their broadcast headquarters, after winding up their New York business.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
CAROLEE COLTER, heroine, prospector's daughter.
STUART BLAKE, eastern
"buck" tourist, Carolee's lover.
HENRY COLTER, prospector, Carolee's father.
PAUL AND SILAS COLTER,
prospector's sons.
NINA BLAKE, Stuart's sister.

Yesterday Stuart becomes lost in the mountains, suffers delirium, and finally falls asleep on a patch of buck brush, utterly exhausted.

CHAPTER VIII
THERE was nothing especially romantic about the way they found Stuart Blake. Silas Colter saw him first, and grasped his father's arm.

"Ain't—ain't that a man away over yonder?" He was staring in the distance.
It was a man, undoubtedly. Silas unconsciously cocked the rifle he carried. The man was staggering, half crawling. But he wasn't menacing. He hadn't even seen the Colters, in fact.

Carolee was with the Colters that day, but that was just hap-penstance. She had hung out her sheet signal on the morning after her experience with Stuart, but he had not met her down trail.
This had piqued her considerably;
she'd wait a week or more before she tried to signal him again, she promised herself. Paul Colter had gone alone to study the high plateau country, and Silas and the father had spent a day at wood gathering. On the second day they and Carolee went mine hunting.

She saw the man in the distance, but didn't recognize him.
"He's in trouble, isn't he?" she demanded.
They had no field glasses, and he was several hundred yards away. They turned to get nearer him.

"It's that Blake fellow!" Old man
Colter recognized him first.
"Oh!" cried Carolee.
They all spurred their horses to move as fast as the rugged terrain permitted.

STUART still didn't see them.
He appeared not to see them even when they dismounted in his presence. He had been bendeveled by many a mirage.
"Stuart!" Carolee spoke to him.
Nobody noticed her familiarity.
He didn't answer. He couldn't have answered, anyway. He just stared, blinking. His face was rather black, his clothing torn.

They gave him water, put him in the shade. The Colter men had to hold him off the water, once he got a sip. They let him drink a swigful at a time, with considerable interval. Carolee bathed his brow with a moistened handkerchief. Nobody did any talking for a long while. Silas had a can of peaches in his pack, and fed Stuart the sweet juice, then some of the fruit. After that Stuart slept. They sat with him until he revived and recognized them as real people, not phantoms.

"Carolee!" he murmured, and smiled. She smiled back and asked, gently, "Do you feel better?"
He drank more water, and ate more of the food they offered.
Strength was flowing back into him. "This—Wednesday?" he asked.

"Thursday," she said. "What happened? How long have you been here? Who is with you?"
"Nobody. Nothing happened. To me I mean. My horse fell over a cliff and killed himself. Yesterday, I suppose. Where are the panthers?"
It was his last memory, and his speech was confusing. He realized he'd have to explain.
"I found some mountain lion babies, panthers. Like those in the filling station zoo. Not the old ones. I expected them to come and tear into me."

"They don't do people no harm,"
Mr. Colter said, watching Stuart intently. "Where's your horse?"
"I don't know. Dead somewhere, on the rocks. Busted my canteen and lost the water all out. I had no idea thirst would be like that.
My tongue is still thick and hard.
It was hellish."

The Colters, of course, had to help Stuart out of the mountain.
He wanted to walk, but Carolee insisted that he ride and Silas gave up his horse. Carolee did most of the talking for her family.
"Were you hunting gold, too?"
she inquired, cheerfully.
"Well, yes, I was. In a way.
Not too seriously, but—" He glanced in some concern at the other two men. "I mean, I was just tracing down some of the clues that everybody knows about, more or less for fun. I'm not—I wouldn't of course interfere with anybody else. Just adventuring.
You know what I mean."

HE felt he was talking himself into a pocket. He had already

PREACHER HELD FOR OPPOSING NAZI POLICIES

Berlin, July 2—(AP)—The Rev.
Martin Niemöller, militant con-fessional synod preacher opposed to Nazi domination of the Protestant church in Germany, was arrested here and taken to the regular police jail.

Presumably the accusation against him was the same as those brought against other confessional leaders, whose secret trial will be started tomorrow on charges of violating a government decree prohibiting the reading from pulpits of the names of persons who have left the church.

Both the press and public will be barred from the trials of the Rev. Gerhard Jacobi, pastor of the fashionable Kaiser Wilhelm Memorial church in Berlin, two other pastors and a legal advisor.

The justice department said a press communiqué would be issued after the hearings for Rev. Mr.
Jacobi, the Rev. Mr. Neisel, the Rev. Von Arnim-Luetzow and a church attorney named Ehlers.

The four have been held in jail for two weeks. If convicted, they may be sentenced to two years imprisonment.

Confessional synod (fundamental) leaders led the government know on the eve of the trial that if "martyrs" are made of the four men that hundreds and perhaps thousands of pastors on the next Sunday will read lists of church resignations in defiance of the government, thereby compelling authorities to fill jails with clergymen.

EIGHT HOUR BILL TO AID FEMALE EMPLOYMENT

Springfield, Ill., July 2—(AP)—The women's eight-hour bill which labor leaders predict will bring a 10 per cent increase in female employment has been signed into law by Governor Horner.

Estimated to effect 330,000 women, the administration endorsed measure fixes an eight-hour day and 48-hour week for most women in business and industry. Exempted are domestics, farm laborers, graduate nurses and at certain times telephone and telegraph operators, public emergencies, canneries and mercantile establishments.

Approval of the measure climaxed more than a quarter of a century long fight by labor leaders to reduce women's working hours from 10 to eight hours daily.

Hailed as Victory
Reuben G. Soderstrom, president of the Illinois federation of labor, hailed passage of the bill as "the grandest kind of victory." It was a key measure in labor's current legislative program.

Industry contended the law would throw an unfair burden on Illinois employers in competition with sister states which do not limit women's hours. During debate in the Senate, the opinion was expressed some employers might displace women with men workers to escape the provisions. However, labor leaders scoffed at such claims contending the law would bring improved health and enthusiasm to women workers.

The bulk of the women affected are industrial workers, hotel, restaurant, retail store employees and beauty operators. Retail stores will be permitted to work their clerk a nine hour day for one week during the Christmas rush.

Leaders Present
Labor leaders were present when Governor Horner signed the bill, ending successfully their long struggle for such legislation.

The department of labor, which will have administration of the law, will use the same machinery that has enforced the 10 hour law. Some 40 investigators will act on complaints and make routine visits to the establishments affected.

Under the bill, effective at once, employers are required to keep records of the hours of employment open to the labor department.
